Let's Start!

We should go to an art gallery. We should have lunch in the park.

Learning Outcome

Describe places, neighborhoods and countries in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What places should you take a friend from another city?
- Where is a good place to eat?

Can Do Statements

- I can make suggestions using should.
- I can talk about places and attractions in a city.
- I can ask and say where places are.

Let's Explore!

Sally and John get lost

* To "get lost" means to not know where you are in a place.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Should we ask someone for help?
John: You ask, I don't like doing that.
Sally: Fine!
John: OK, let's go ask the gas station attendant. Maybe he knows.
Sally: Excuse me, where is Exhibition Place?
Gas station attendant: I have no idea ... There is a convenience store across the street. You should check there.
Sally: Thanks! Let's look at the map again. Where are we? What's this street called?
Passerby: Do you need help? Where do you want to go?
Peter: We want to go to the county fair.
Passerby: Oh! that's at the Exhibition Center. You are here and you should go back one block. Then, turn right at the city hall. Next, walk along ...

Let's Practice!

John and Sally get some help.

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

Target Words

- city hall (noun): the building for a city government
e.g. The new city hall is on the next street.
- art gallery (noun): a building to show paintings and sculpture
e.g. The art gallery is showing paintings by Picasso.
- gas station (noun): a place to buy gasoline and oil
e.g. Let's stop at the gas station. We need gas!
- convenience store (noun): a store in a busy area, open late, with everyday items to buy e.g. Let's stop at the convenience store. I need to buy milk.
- across (preposition): on the other side of e.g. The art gallery is across the street.
- attendant (noun): a person who helps in a place like a gas station
e.g. The gas station attendant fills your car with fuel.

Learning Points

The Modal Should for Suggestions

You use the modal verb should to offer suggestions.

The form is:

subject + modal verb + main verb

We should visit the art gallery!

There is only one form of should. It does not change.

Examples:

- He should see the exhibition in Boston.
- They should go to the harbor area for lunch.
- You should ask for directions.

Asking and Saying Where Places Are

You use the Simple Present tense to ask and say where places are.

When you ask where a place is, you say:

Where is _____ ?

Is _____ near here?

What street is _____ on?

To say where a place is, you use prepositions and directions.

_____ is on _____ Street.

It's south on _____ Street.

When you do not know where a place is, you say:

I'm sorry, I don't know.

I'm sorry, I have no idea.

Cultural Tip

Saying "I have no idea." without "I'm sorry," is not very polite.

Question	Response
Where is Exhibition Place?	It's by the harbor.
Is Exhibition Place near here?	Yes. It's south on Liberty Street.
What street is Exhibition Place on?	I'm sorry, I have no idea.
